

We're Hiring! Improv Theatre Teaching Artists Wanted

Canady Foundation for the Arts (CFA) is actively seeking dynamic, Improv Theatre Teaching Artists to join our growing team of culturally responsive, community-driven artists. This is a unique opportunity to use your skills to inspire, educate, and mentor youth of color ages 10–18 in the D.C. metro area through improv-based theatre education.

As a member of the CFA you won't just teach—you'll perform, mentor, and embody the values of creativity, community, and cultural pride.

RESPONISBILITIES

- Lead engaging improv theatre workshops for youth in schools, community centers, and CFA programs.
- Facilitate a safe, inclusive, and imaginative learning environment for youth of color.
- Support youth in building confidence, storytelling skills, and social-emotional learning through improv techniques.
- Participate in community showcases, performances, or culminating events.
- Serve as a mentor and role model, promoting leadership, artistic expression, and cultural awareness.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Must have experience in Improv/ Theatre Arts
- At least 1–2 years teaching or facilitating experience preferred
- Ability to pass background checks (DCPS / DCHR clearance may be required)
- Have flexible weekday availability, with some evening/weekend availability for performances or special events.
- Communicative, reliable, collaborative, and adaptable
